SOLVING THE MYSTERY OF RASPUTIN

Mr Mills' Year 11 Modern History students have been learning about the mysterious figure of Rasputin, analysing the various perspectives and often conflicting accounts of this historical individual. This week, students worked in groups to investigate Rasputin's murder, looking at various pieces of real documentary evidence including eyewitness accounts, autopsy reports, photographs and police statements.

The class did a great job examining the primary sources and putting their history detective skills to the test, and had a lot of fun along the way.
