INTERMEDIATE CONCERT BAND DRESS-UP CONCERT

On Tuesday 18 September, the Intermediate Concert Band had their annual dress-up concert event.

This is a small and fun afternoon concert where students perform for their parents before they are picked up from their normal rehearsals.

This year, the dress theme was “Olympians/sports/athletes”, as one of the recent pieces they have finished learning is “Olympic Fanfare and Theme”, which was the official theme song at the Opening Ceremony at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. This has been a famous piece of music for bands to perform all around the world ever since.

The band performed very well, and had lots of fun dressing up. The best dressed awards this year went to Chelsea S (who dressed as a figure skater!) and Domenic L (dressed as an Oz-Tag player).

Well done for everyone for embracing the team spirit on this special day.
