

HISTORY EXTENSION SEMINAR

The students of the new History Extension class engaged in an online seminar from the State Library of NSW & Sydney Living Museums.

As part of the day, students learned how to undertake their major projects and gained insight and advice from contemporary Australian historians. The group also were provided a lecture by Dr

Stephen Gapps on his ground-breaking new research on the 'Sydney Wars' in colonial Australia and had the opportunity to ask questions about the newly uncovered military history of colonial Sydney.
