

THE WAY

STUDENT WELLBEING - FROM THE SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGIST

The lockdown period has been extended until at least the 30 July and we are very aware that most of our families are located in the areas where higher case numbers have been reported and stricter restrictions have been imposed. Lockdown fatigue is another term that has developed out of these new experiences. We have had to come to terms with a virus that has affected every aspect of our lives and it can leave you feeling physically and mentally exhausted.

Your children are being supported by their teachers, year advisers, staff from the wellbeing team as well as our College Psychologists. We have a team of 3 dedicated psychologists who can assist you and your child if you feel that their mental health has been impacted or they are struggling in one way or another.
