

ANCIENT HISTORY

Year 12 Ancient History have been engaging in experimental archaeology by producing models of buildings from the Roman cities of Pompeii & Herculaneum.

Using clay or blocks, students had to showcase their knowledge of the Roman domus to ensure these models accurately represented the key features, scale and function of these buildings.
