

THE WAY

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS & WELLBEING - JUNIOR SCHOOL

Earlier this year in The Way, I outlined the proactive wellbeing programs in the Junior School, namely House and Manners Matter.

Outlined below is the learning for Term 2:

K-2: Social skills including negotiating, sharing, communicating and taking turns through a paired activity specifically designed to teach the aforementioned skills.

3-6: Students will be learning to positively interact with others so that relationships and human connections are positive, respectful, and healthy. In other words, we are learning to value consent, put simply, as permission for shared experiences, taught through a Christian world lens.

We encourage you to engage in meaningful conversations with your child about what they are learning about in House and Manners Matter.
