

YEAR 4 SHOWCASE

Year 4 students have been developing their observational skills in Visual Art. They started off their first week in the new Art room drawing a shoe from memory, then practised a new method of line drawing. Contour drawings help students to engage the right side of their brain and it is clear that a little instruction goes a long way! Zoe G's shoe drawings demonstrate an amazing development in skills in just one lesson, when comparing the first drawing of a shoe (from memory) and with guided learning. After their first Art class focussing on drawing, William in Year 4 commented, "That was intense work!"
