

DRAMATIC STORYTELLING

Not by the hair of my chinny chin chin! In Kindergarten Drama last week, we worked together to develop a dramatic storytelling of the Three Little Pigs. So much fun and squealing, particularly when Mrs Hollis was the wolf! After acting out the story, the students drew their feelings in response to the roles they played. I was amazed when a number of students expressed they were sad their house fell down, though were happy they had a chance to visit other pig's houses. This week, acting out forest scenes from the book Where the Forest meets the Sea is a lovely contrast from all my huffing, puffing and blowing houses down.
