

YEAR 10 HISTORY INVESTIGATE WWI ARTEFACT

Year 10 History students have been learning about “Australians at War” in History this semester. To enhance their learning, students investigated a variety of artefacts, both real and replica, which were borrowed from the Australian War Memorial and on display in our own N block, History Cabinets. Students completed activities based on a close investigation of these artefacts and information set up as part of the display. Students enjoyed the hands-on nature of the learning, which deepened their understanding of Australia’s involvement in World War I in the lead up to ANZAC Day.
