

PREP STUDENTS VISIT MRS EASTON'S OFFICE

Over the last 2 weeks, our Prep classes have taken turns going on a very special excursion, just a short stroll down the playground, to visit Mrs Easton in her office. For many of our youngest learners, this was their first time seeing the Principal in her workspace and they arrived excited and ready with some big questions.

With wide eyes and even wider smiles, the students settled in and began asking the important things they'd been wondering about. Their "hard-hitting" questions included favourites such as:

"What do you do?"

"Do you live here?"

"Do you make gingerbread?"

"Do you have dogs?"

Mrs Easton happily answered each question, sharing what a Principal actually does and reassuring them that she does indeed go home at the end of the day.

The visit was filled with laughter, curiosity and the kind of honest, thoughtful questions only Prep students can ask. Moments like these remind us of the joy that comes from seeing the College through the eyes of our youngest learners.

It was a memorable experience for all involved and we look forward to welcoming many more curious visitors in the future.
