

JUNIOR SCHOOL ILLUSTRATORS' WORKSHOP

As part of their prize for achieving top places in our Junior School Illustrators' Competition, several students recently participated in a special illustrators' workshop. The session was led by Imojjen Hunnam, an emerging artist and illustrator whose fresh perspective captivated our budding creatives.

During the workshop, Imojjen shared some of her favourite works from famous illustrators and offered insights into the techniques she uses to bring her own illustrations to life. Our students were eager to experiment with building their own creative images.

This experience highlighted the creativity and talent within our school community, and we look forward to seeing how these blossoming illustrators continue to grow.
