PARENT COMMUNITY NETWORK INDUCTION

This week, parents and carers gathered at the College for a Parent Community Network (PCN) induction and training session, taking an important first step toward volunteering within the Thomas Hassall Anglican College community.

The PCN provides a wonderful opportunity for families to support the life of the College while connecting with other parents and carers. Volunteers play an important role in assisting with a range of activities across the year, helping to strengthen the sense of community that makes our College so special.

During the session, attendees were introduced to the various ways they can be involved in 2026. Opportunities include serving as Class Helpers, assisting at much-loved events such as the Mother's Day and Father's Day stalls, and supporting other activities throughout the school year. The induction also outlined the important processes and expectations for volunteering.

We are grateful to all parents and carers who are willing to give their time in support of our students and staff. Their involvement helps create a welcoming and vibrant community and we look forward to seeing many of them involved in College life throughout the year.
