YEAR 10 MID COURSE EXAMINATION PREPARATION

In Week 5, Year 10 will complete their Mid Course Examinations. For some it can be a daunting experience, but I would encourage all our students to see it as an opportunity to become familiar with exam conditions.

Students should begin their preparation as early as possible. For Mathematics, this means practising past papers under timed conditions, using the revision materials your teacher has provided and reaching out if you don't understand something. For some students, seeking assistance can be as simple as sending through a screenshot of a question via email, but for others, it can be more helpful coming to the staffroom at lunchtime to get help on a question.

Remember, almost all revision materials provided come with answers attached so use them if you're stumped. But don't become reliant on them as you won't have a set of answers during your exam!

All the best Year 10.
