KINDERGARTEN CREATIVITY ON DISPLAY

Our Kindergarten artists have been exploring how lines, shapes, colours and patterns can express feelings and tell stories in their artwork. Inspired by book illustrations, famous artworks and Indigenous art techniques, students have been building their fine motor skills while growing their creativity and confidence.

Over the past few weeks, the children have been working through a multi-step art project. They began with a directed drawing of a landscape scene, followed by painting with watercolours. As they added our their details and creative ideas, the children enjoyed seeing how each artwork became unique and reflected their individual style. In the coming weeks, they will continue developing their pieces by adding patterns and textures using fine pens and markers.

These whole-class photos capture the excitement as our young artists proudly share their favourite artworks from the semester.
